Dear Ms. Williams:

This is in response to your U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request (GSA-2016-000976), submitted on July 20, 2016 in which you requested:

"On July 5, 2013, our office received a Freedom of Information Act request from the New York Times regarding Mail Cover records that contained information of interest to your agency.

We are forwarding this material to your office for releasability determination. Please provide us with any comments you may have regarding the sensitivity of the material, and include your agency's appeal procedures. The U.S. Postal Inspection Service will respond directly to the requester, and give the requester your agency's appeal rights for your withholding determinations. A copy of the requester's initial letter is attached for your information.

Please provide a response by August 11, 2016, and reference USPIS FOIA No. 2013-FPIS-00271.

Please be advised, if we have not received a response within the allotted timeframe, our office will release the information to the New York Times."

In response to your request, GSA has reviewed and has no objection to USPS releasing the subject spreadsheet. In addition, The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) will respond separately to their portion of the information contained on the spreadsheet.

This completes our action on this request. Should you have any questions, please contact Mr. Travis Lewis, at 202-219-3078 or by email at travis.lewis@gsa.gov

Sincerely,

Travis Lewis
